

Non-Involvement of Providers of Student Health Services in Student Assessment Policy

Category: SAMC
Responsibility: Associate Dean, UME
Approval: Student Academic Management Committee
Date: Date initially approved: Nov 1, 2016
Date(s) reformatted or revised: June 25, 2020

Purpose:

The purpose of the Non-Involvement of Providers of Student Health Services in Student Assessment Policy is to articulate the College of Medicine's stance that health professionals who provide psychiatric, psychological, or other health services to a medical student must have no involvement in assessing their academic performance or participating in decisions regarding their promotion or graduation.

This policy ensures that the Undergraduate Medical Education program meets or exceeds the following Committee on Accreditation of Canadian Medical Schools (CACMS) and Liaison Committee on Medical Education (LCME) accreditation standards:

12.5 Providers of Student Health Services/Location of Student Health Records: The health professionals who provide health services, including psychiatric/psychological counseling, to a medical student have no involvement in the academic assessment or advancement of the medical student receiving those services, excluding exceptional circumstances. A medical school ensures that medical student health records are maintained in accordance with legal requirements for security, privacy, confidentiality, and accessibility.

Principles:

Confidentiality: The College of Medicine is committed to maintaining the confidentiality and security of all undergraduate medical education student records, including health-related records voluntarily submitted by medical students.

Integrity: The Non-Involvement of Providers of Student Health Services in Student Assessment Policy is intended to maintain the integrity of the Undergraduate Medical Education Program.

Definitions:

Conflict of Interest: in relation to this policy, a situation in which a health care professional who provides psychiatric, psychological, or other health services to a medical student becomes involved in their academic assessment, promotion, or graduation decisions.

Course Administrator: a module, course, rotation, or program director responsible for the overall administration of the academic activity.

Scope of this Policy:

This policy applies to all undergraduate students registered in the Doctor of Medicine (MD) program at the University of Saskatchewan irrespective of the geographically distributed site to which they are currently assigned.

Related policies include: Conflict of Interest During Student Assessment, Student Records Policy, Procedures for Academic Appeal, Health Information Protection Act.

Policy:

1.0 Student Health Services, University of Saskatchewan

No clinician from the Student Health Services, University of Saskatchewan, shall assess a medical student's performance or participate in decisions regarding their promotion and/or graduation if they have provided health services, including psychiatric or psychological counselling, to the medical student.

2.0 Office of Student Services, College of Medicine

No clinician from the Office of Student Affairs, College of Medicine, shall assess a medical student's performance or participate in decisions regarding their promotion and/or graduation if they have provided health services, including psychiatric or psychological counselling, to the medical student.

3.0 Year Committees, College of Medicine

Medical student promotion and graduation recommendations are made on a case-by-case basis by individual Year Committees to the Student Academic Management Committee within the College of Medicine.

Any member of a Year Committee who has previously provided psychiatric, psychological or other health services to a medical student whose case is under consideration for promotion or graduation must declare a conflict of interest, recuse themselves from that portion of the meeting, and abstain from commenting or voting upon the individual situation.

Non-Involvement of Health Practitioners Policy

Where quorum cannot be obtained due to multiple conflicts of interest, the Associate Dean, Undergraduate Medical Education will temporarily appoint a faculty member to serve as a proxy for the committee member(s) who declared a conflict of interest. The proxy will only be authorized to consider and vote upon promotion or graduation decisions where a conflict of interest was declared. The proxy will be removed from the committee immediately afterwards.

4.0 Student Academic Management Committee, College of Medicine

Medical student promotion and graduation decisions are made on a case-by-case basis by the Student Academic Management Committee within the College of Medicine.

Any committee member who has previously provided psychiatric, psychological or other sensitive health services to a medical student whose case is under consideration for promotion or graduation must declare a conflict of interest, recuse themselves from the portion of the meeting, and abstain from commenting or voting upon the individual situation.

Where quorum cannot be obtained due to multiple conflicts of interest, the Associate Dean, Undergraduate Medical Education will temporarily appoint a faculty member to serve as a proxy for the committee member(s) who declared a conflict of interest. The proxy will only be authorized to consider and vote upon promotion or graduation decisions where a conflict of interest was declared. The proxy will be removed from the committee immediately afterwards.

5.0 Conflict of Interest in Academic Assessment

5.1 Proactive Disclosure

The Undergraduate Medical Education Office shall inform preceptors of the Non-Involvement of Providers of Student Health Services in Student Assessment Policy on an annual basis.

Preceptors are expected to review the student lists provided to them by the Undergraduate Medical Education Office well in advance of assessing medical students in courses, modules, or rotations. Preceptors should proactively disclose any perceived or actual conflict of interest pertaining to medical student assessments to the course administrator.

Medical students are expected to review individual course outlines well in advance of being assessed by a preceptor in a course, module, or rotation. Medical students should proactively disclose any perceived or actual conflict of interest pertaining to academic assessment to the course administrator.

Non-Involvement of Health Practitioners Policy

For forms of assessment in which there may be potential for subjectivity in the assessment, the course administrator shall arrange for an alternative assessment to be made. For objective forms of assessment (example: multiple choice questions) the assessment shall proceed as planned.

5.2 Reactive Disclosure/Exceptional Circumstances

While all efforts are made to ensure that health care providers are not involved in the academic assessment or advancement of medical students, there may be exceptional circumstances in which a health care provider finds themselves in a situation where they are involved in the assessment of a student or in decisions regarding academic advancement. Should a student or faculty identify such a conflict, the faculty will recuse themselves from further assessment of the student. This is especially important if the assessment is subjective in nature. For objective forms of assessment (example: multiple choice questions) the assessment shall proceed as planned. If the faculty are involved in the advancement of a medical student to whom they provide health care, they will recuse themselves from discussion of the student's academic progress.

In the situation that a preceptor or medical student recognizes a conflict of interest during supervision/assessment in the clinical setting, then the preceptor should arrange alternative clinical supervision as soon as is feasible to ensure student and patient safety, and inform the Rotation Coordinator/ course administrator as soon as possible.

Preceptors or medical students who identify a perceived or actual conflict of interest while being assessed must discretely inform the preceptor who in turn shall cease the assessment. Both parties must inform the course administrator of the occurrence.

5.3 Post-Assessment Disclosure

Medical students who identify a perceived or actual conflict of interest after having been assessed in a course, module, or rotation will be assigned the grade submitted by the preceptor. The only recourse available to a medical student dissatisfied with their assigned grade are the regulations described in the college-level Procedures for Academic Appeal.

6.0 Student Health Records

Student personal health information is governed by provincial legislation governing privacy and confidentiality of patient health records (the "Health Information Privacy Act") as well as university-level processes designed to protect student privacy.

The Undergraduate Medical Education Office shall store any health-related information voluntarily submitted by a medical student in the non-academic component of their Active

Non-Involvement of Health Practitioners Policy

File, per the college-level Student Records Policy. This is intended to further protect the privacy and confidentiality of the medical student.
